Auditors' Report

To the Members of Toronto People with AIDS Foundation

We have audited the balance sheet of Toronto People with AIDS Foundation as at March 31, 2010 and the statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of PWA's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

Except as noted in the following paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In common with many not-for-profit organizations, PWA derives revenue from fundraising and donations, the completeness of which is not susceptible to satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of PWA and we were unable to determine whether any adjustments for unrecorded revenue might be necessary to fundraising and donations revenue, excess (deficiency) of revenue over expenses and net assets.

In our opinion, except for the effect of any adjustments which might have been required had we been able to satisfy ourselves with respect to the completeness of fundraising and donation revenue referred to in the preceding paragraph, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of PWA as at March 31, 2010 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Notes to Financial Statements Year ended March 31

1. Organizational background, mission statement and income tax status

Toronto People with AIDS Foundation ("PWA") is a not-for-profit organization incorporated under the Corporations Act, Ontario, by letters patent dated May 11, 1987 and subsequently amended by supplementary letters patent dated June 7, 1988.

Mission statement

PWA exists to promote the health and well-being of all people living with HIV/AIDS (PHAs) by providing accessible, direct, and practical support services.

Statement of philosophy

People living with HIV/AIDS play a crucial role in the governance and operation of PWA, but most important, are its heart and soul. Although PWA seeks supportive partnerships in support of fulfilling its mission, its response to HIV/AIDS is, more than anything else, inspired by the voices and experience of people living with HIV/AIDS.

Within the context of this refined mission and statement of philosophy, PWA has mapped out the strategic directions which will guide the organization in the future:

- 1. Creating the experience of an affirming connection place
- (a) reconfigure the physical space of PWA;
- (b) ensure that clients have access to services in multiple languages:
- (c) reinforce the internal culture of care and concern; and
- (d) reshape the existing health promotion and resource support programs.
- 2. Reshaping the point of access to the PHA network
- (a) work with community partners and existing processes to create a shared, collaborative view of the system;
- (b) recognize that clients need to experience the most seamless navigation possible;
- (c) take a leadership role in further investigating the possibility of a "single intake" concept;
- (d) build on the communications and branding program; and
- (e) create a liaison program for more porous, fluid relationships between PWA and other agencies and programs.
- 3. Strengthening and streamlining core practical direct support services
- (a) continue to build on staff skills to help deal with immediate crises for clients; and
- (b) conduct an analysis of the programs to ensure that they are best serving the clients' needs.

Income tax status

PWA is registered as a charitable organization under the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the "Act") and, as such, is exempt from income taxes. Accordingly, no provision has been made in the accounts of PWA for income taxes. PWA is subject to the disbursement requirements set by the Act and as at the end of fiscal 2010, was in compliance with these requirements.

Notes to Financial Statements Year ended March 31

2. Objectives, policies and processes for managing capital

PWA's capital is comprised of the net assets invested in property and equipment, internally restricted funds and unrestricted funds.

The board invests in the property and equipment in order to promote the health and well being of all people living with HIV/AIDS and to provide accessible, direct and practical support services. The board authorizes the funds based on the recommendation from the finance committee.

Internally restricted funds are set aside by board resolution to provide for special requirements and their objectives are described in Note 3 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies. The funds are not required in the short term. The Director, Finance and Administration invests their balances in accordance with board policy, which allows that they be held in short-term, low risk and highly liquid financial instruments.

The finance committee reviews the annual budget and cash flow forecast (which includes the property and equipment requirements) and determines the working capital needs for the year. Throughout the year, the Director, Finance and Administration monitors the actual results against the forecast and notifies the finance committee and the board when changes to plans are required. It is the opinion of the board that the amount of the unrestricted fund balance is appropriate for the current needs of PWA.

3. Summary of significant accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, the more significant of which are outlined below.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the balance sheet date and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Short-term investments

Short-term investments consist of money market funds and guaranteed investment certificates bearing interest at rates between 1.30% and 1.41%, all maturing September 23, 2010.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost and are amortized over their estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis. The annual amortization rates are as follows:

Vehicles5 yearsComputer equipment3 yearsFurniture and fixtures5 yearsLeasehold improvementsOver the term of the lease

Donated property and equipment are recorded at fair value at the date of contribution.

Revenue recognition

PWA follows the deferral method of accounting for revenue. Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Notes to Financial Statements Year ended March 31

3. Summary of significant accounting policies — continued

Donated goods and services

The fair market value of donated goods and services is not reported in the financial statements as revenue, however it is reported as a note to the financial statements (note 10).

Allocation of expenses

PWA allocates a portion of administrative and overhead shared expenses to various programs. Allocation of expenses is on the following basis:

- (1) Occupancy costs (rent/utilities) based on square footage used for each program
- (2) Amortization expense based on number of program staff and required usage of computers, furniture and fixtures and a portion of leasehold improvements
- (3) General administrative expenses based on number of program staff

The details of the allocation are in note 11. The basis of expense allocation is consistent with the prior year.

Financial instruments

The Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (the "CICA") provides a choice for financial instruments disclosure and PWA has chosen to continue to apply Financial instruments - Disclosure and Presentation, Section 3861 in place of Financial Instruments - Disclosure, Section 3862 and Financial instruments - Presentation, Section 3863.

PWA's financial instruments consist of cash, accounts receivable, short-term investments, accounts payable and leasehold improvement allowance.

The carrying value of PWA's cash, accounts receivable, short-term investments, and accounts payable approximate fair value due to their short-term maturities.

The leasehold improvement allowance is carried at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.

9. Financial assistance contributions

PWA provides financial assistance to people living with HIV/AIDS. Monies received from the Community Partners fund and Positive Support fund are restricted for financial assistance to clients. In addition, a portion of fundraising efforts are allocated to financial assistance in the annual budgeting process.

PWA recognized revenue for financial assistance from the following sources during the year:

	2	2010		2009
Positive Support fund - Ontario AIDS Network Community Partners fund - AIDS Committee of Toronto Community fundraising, special events and donations	$	13,831 2,500 12,009	$	10,790 7,500 10,201

Notes to Financial Statements Year ended March 31

10. Donated goods and services

The fair value of goods and services donated to PWA in 2010 was $8,693 (2009 - $25,146) and is not recorded as revenue for the year.

A large number of hours are contributed by volunteers who assist in the food bank, act as crew on the bike rally, provide massage therapy and hair cutting services, perform reception duties and assist in the PWA office. PWA also receives weekly donations of groceries from a number of businesses and organizations which are distributed to clients through the food bank and PWA's annual dinner. The volunteer contributions and donated groceries are not reflected as donated goods and services revenue due to the difficulty in establishing the fair market value of these goods and services.

A quantity of theatre and event tickets are received free of charge and distributed to clients through the Theatre Access program. These contributions are not reflected as donated goods and services revenue as PWA would not have otherwise purchased the tickets.

Notes to Financial Statements Year ended March 31

13. Financial instruments

PWA has the following risks associated with its financial instruments:

Credit risk

PWA does not consider credit risks on its accounts receivable to be significant given the high quality nature of PWA's sources of revenue.

Fair value

PWA's financial instruments include accounts receivable and accounts payable, these financial instruments are non-interest bearing and are due or payable within the next year. Due to their short-term maturity, the carrying value of these financial instruments approximates fair value.

Interest rate risk

PWA is exposed to interest rate risk on its short-term investments when the value of these financial instruments fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates.
